Corvettes, Pat vets due here next week

By ALISON ALOISIO
Corvettes and lobsters will be the attraction on the common Aug. 18 for Bethel's inaugural Maine Mountain Corvette Festival.

And in town the same day will also be some well-known New England Patriots veterans.

40 clubs contacted

The Aug. 16-18 Corvette gathering is the brainchild of lifelong Corvette enthusiast Roger Beaudoin of Bethel. The event is organized by the Chamber of Commerce.

Beaudoin got his inspiration from the annual "British Invasion" festival of British sports cars, which takes place in Stowe, Vt.

"They have over a thousand cars every year," he said.

While the expectation is nowhere near that for the first Bethel event, Beaudoin and other organizers hope to grow it over time, much like the European Bike Meet at Sunday River and the Telstar Car Show.

Word has gone out to more than 40 Corvette Clubs all over the Northeast.

Beaudoin said the clubs are busy on weekends throughout the summer at other events, and next weekend was the only one they still had open.

In addition to contacting the clubs by e-mail, said Beaudoin, "I've been leaving color flyers on Corvettes in town when I see them."

Beaudoin said one woman

Local musician scores poetry documentary set for national broadcast

By ALISON ALOISIO

An original score by Bethel musician/composer Conni St. Pierre will be featured on a "Poetry Live(s)" broadcast scheduled for the nationwide Public Broadcasting Service (PBS) Aug. 25.

St. Pierre works as partner and manager of The Outlook recording studio, which she and her husband, producer/engineer Ted St. Pierre, founded in 1980.

The poetry documentary features eight California poets performing their written words live.

It was produced and directed by filmmaker Mark Freeman, associate professor of television film and new media in San Diego State University's School of Theatre, Television and Film.

St. Pierre's music is intended to underscore the varied performances, with music ranging from hip-hop beats to New Orleans jazz on kazoo and slide whistle.

"It was all about the individual poems; the feeling that the words evoked, and the rhythm of the poet's performance," said St. Pierre. "It was a challenge to compose electronic dance beats one day, and free jazz the next."

G'wood to vote again on fire truck, park spending

By MICHAEL DANIELS

At a special Town Meeting set for Aug. 21, Greenwood voters will take up some unfinished business from their annual Town Meeting in March.

At the earlier meeting voters slashed nearly half a million dollars in proposed spending.

In so doing, they reduced a projected 60 percent increase in municipal spending to only 8.5 percent.

But in the case of two of the expenditures they slashed, voters indicated they would be willing to revisit the issues at a later date.

Those two expenditures were $225,000 to replace the Fire Department's equipment/rescue truck, and $7,900 for maintaining the town's parks and recreation facilities.

The vehicle the Fire Department was seeking to replace is a 1982 school bus that has been converted to haul equipment.

Bethel grapples with the financial aftermath of last month's flooding

By MICHAEL DANIELS

The Bethel Board of Selectmen Monday evening endorsed a proposal to have the town act as a conduit to channel $80,000 in federal aid to help the Bethel Water District recover from last month's flash flooding.

But at the same meeting, the selectmen told a group of private property owners who live downstream from the BWD watershed that there may be little the town can do to offset their losses (estimated at more than $100,000) from the flooding.

"Urgent need" grant goes to voters

After a public hearing lasting only a minute or so, the board voted 4-0 to ask town

Late news:

On Wednesday afternoon, as The Citizen was going to press, President Bush approved a disaster declaration for the State of Maine, triggering the release of federal funds to help communities respond to the severe storms and flooding that occurred here July 11-12.

voters if they will approve a Community Development Block Grant application for the $80,000.

Voters will make the decision at a special Town Meeting set for Monday, Aug. 20.

(Final details regarding the agenda for the Town Meeting will be worked out at a combined selectmen/Budget Committee meeting scheduled for Aug. 13, and will be reported in the Aug. 16 edition of The Citizen.)

If the grant is ultimately approved, the $80,000 would go toward offsetting the estimated $400,000-plus cost of post-storm efforts to keep the water running in Bethel.

Town Manager Scott Cole said Monday that the grant is only one of a number of ongoing efforts by the town to come up with ways to pay for last month's damage.

"There are several things happening now with various government agencies," Cole said.

The CBDG application, he said, is specifically "for funds that will reimburse the Water District through the town for so called 'urgent needs.'"

"And that would include trucking in water, certain permitting requirements for the new source and also new piping that was done of a tempo-

Newry tax bills down and out

By ALISON ALOISIO

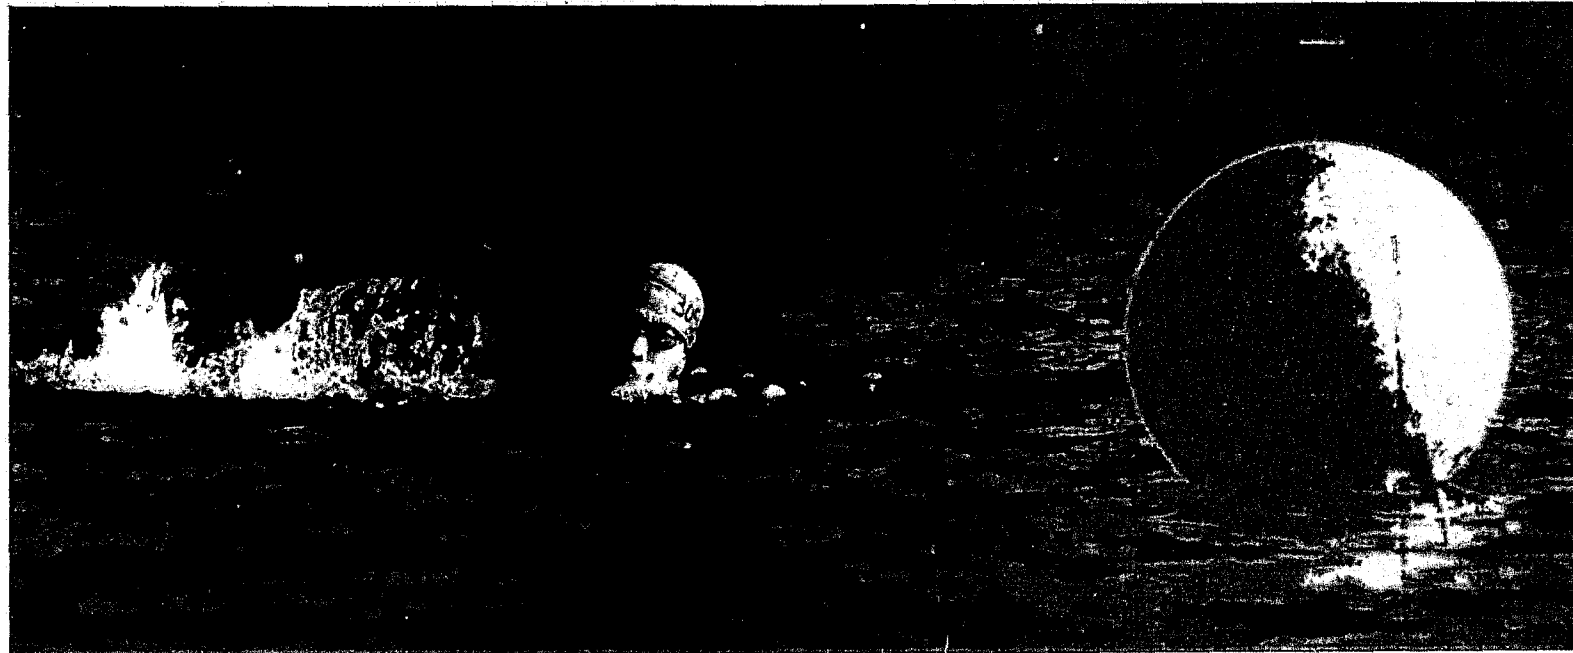

Newry's municipal budget went up more than $200,000 this year, but thanks to Surplus Account funds and a drop in the school tax, the mill rate has gone down.

Selectmen Monday set the rate at 7.08 mills, down from last year's 7.80.

The overlay amount (available for unforeseen circumstances) will be $42,189.

At the March Town Meeting, voters approved using $350,000 from surplus to offset taxes. The school bill for the

CONCERT FOR LAURETTA VARO

To the Editor:

The Mahoosuc Community Band will have its end-of-summer concert at the West Parish Congregational Church in Bethel on Monday night, Aug. 20, at 7 p.m.

All proceeds collected at the concert will go to help Lauretta Varo with her medical bills. Lauretta helped form the Mahoosuc Community Band and has played saxophone since the beginning.

The community band will play a collection of familiar favorites and some new arrangements. Please come and enjoy the evening and the music. Refreshments will be available after the concert.

Anyone interested in bringing out their old instrument and dusting off the valves or pads is welcome to come anytime we're practicing. The rehearsals for the fall will start Sept. 10 at 7 p.m. in the basement of the West Parish Congregational Church.

For more information, contact me at 665-2264 or janechan@megalink.net, Brian Dunham at 665-2967 or trumpets3u@yahoo.com, or our directors, Patricia Boyle-Wight at 824-8453 or pboyle-wight@sundayriverinn.com or Kathleen DeVore at 875-2364 or katdev@aol.com.

CAR SHOW THANKS

To the Editor:

The Telstar Car Show was held on Mollycodd Day with a variety of awesome entries for view enjoyment. The car that traveled the farthest was a 1966 Barracuda from Quebec, Canada. People's Choice Award was awarded to a 1972 Chevy Corvette Sting Ray, and a 1960 Chevy Impala driven by Echo Hoyt took home the Telstar Alumni Association trophy. The Best of Show went to a 1951 Ford Victoria owned by Joseph Mallozzi from Lewiston.

The Friends of Telstar would like to thank the many businesses and individuals who helped make the show come to life. The show would not be possible without the efforts of the entire local community.

Gold Sponsors for the 2007 show were: D & D Grain and Farm Supplies, Leon Costello Co., Jack Cross Excavation, Gaudreau's Repair, D.A. Wilson & Co., TDBanknorth and Sunday River Ski Corporation.

Trophy Sponsors were Bennett's Automotive, Bethel Auto Sales, Bonney's Land Management, Cole's Custom Auto, E. & E. Awards, Bailey's Body Works, Funky Red Barn, Kelley's Auto Parts, James Knight Contractor, Mighty Good Wrench, David and Nancy Murphy, Norsemen Cycle, Oxford Networks, Pat's Auto Sales, Race Basics, Michael T. Steven & Associates, Stonybrook Campground, Sun Valley Sports, Telstar Alumni Association, Western Maine Supply Company and Friends of Telstar who proudly display their business/individual names on the 72 trophies awarded that day.

Door Prize Sponsors were Aubuchon Hardware in Naples, Ellie's Workout Express, Frost Motor Supply, Motor Supply Company, WCSH Channel 6 and VIP in Lewiston.

Ellie Andrews, Elyse Aylward, Eileen Broderick, Bert Cole, Bronson Cole, Jamie Cole, Ken Cole, Gina Douglass, Suzy Gordon, Bob Howe, Linda Howe, Joanne Kimball, Anne Marie Mahre, Eli Mann, Eileen Meisner, Scott Parker, Eileen Pew, Esther Pew, James Swan, Marilyn Swan, Grayson Wakefield, Chris and Dawson Walker, Brad Wight, Brenda Wight, The Bethel Citizen, SAD44 Buildings and Grounds Crew, D.J. Dan Dimambro, Olson's Tent Rentals, Brooks Brothers, Seniors representing the Class of 2008, Class of 2009 and their parents all contributed their energy to make this show happen.

The free shuttle service from the Chapman Inn to Telstar was provided by Sunday River Ski Corporation with the enthusiastic support from Hiram Towel along with the friendly Bob Cloud at the wheel. Signs were also provided by Sunday River with creative assistance from Jeff Sterling. Porta Potties were generously donated by Rick and Ron Savage, building contractors from Bethel.

The Friends of Telstar appreciate the generosity of the businesses and community members who helped make this show a success on Mollycodd Day. Car show proceeds have helped establish a lifelong college scholarship fund from the Friends of Telstar Group. The Class of 2008 and 2009 will use their proceeds to help fund school projects. Thank you to everyone for their efforts and support in making this show a positive event for Telstar Middle/High School communities.

INACCURATE AND MISLEADING

To the Editor:

Last week's letter to the editor by Emily Ecker referenced two sources of information, David Weiland (a retired Navy pilot from the Korean war) and Brigadier General Leon Rice (he actively oversees the Overflight proposal for the Air National Guard). I was curious as to why Ms. Ecker quoted only Mr. Weiland and presented no direct information from Brigadier General Leon Rice.

I e-mailed a scan of both Ms. Ecker's letter and my letter to the General and asked him if the information was correct or if it had been misrepresented in any way.

To my surprise, he quickly replied that Ms. Ecker and David Weiland not only misrepresented the information but provided completely inaccurate and misleading statements and unviable alternatives. I have included Brigadier General Leon Rice's e-mail including the accurate information for your convenience and with the permission of the general to publish it.

It is sad that a group calling themselves "a concerned citizen Internet network" did not concern themselves with distributing accurate, current and truthful information, although they had access to it. Unfortunately for our community, they have produced "canned" letters opposing the Overflights and frightened citizens with false and erroneous information into signing and sending these mass-produced letters to the authority reviewing the public comments concerning the Overflights in addition to our legislators.

I believe everyone who has any concerns should educate themselves with accurate information from the proper sources and express either your support or opposition based on the facts. I strongly urge those who support the Overflights to let your voice be heard. A decision not to act and have your voice heard, is now a decision to let those speak for you who would mislead you for their own benefit and deny our defenses the training they need.

Questions may be directed to Major Michael J. Backus, Public Affairs Officer, Headquarters, Maine National Guard, (207) 626-4390 or Michael.backus@us.army.mil.

For more information on what you can do to oppose or support this proposal, contact Peter Rogers from Senator Susan Collins' office at 784-6969.

Please write to: NGB/A7CVN, Attention: Lt. Col. Landon Jones, 3500 Fetchet Avenue, Andrews AFB, MD 20762 and write to or e-mail your Legislators.

FROM BRIG. GEN. LEON RICE

Mr. Boden,

I appreciate your support and comments. Your letter to the paper is very well written and to the point. Thanks for taking the time to put things into a better perspective.

Specifically, our (the Massachusetts National Guard) proposal to change the Condor Special Use Airspace (SUA) does the following:

1. Changes Condor to meet real world training requirements for F-15s based at Otis ANGB on the Cape (F-15s moving next year to Barnes ANGB in western Massachusetts). F-15's pilots required to perform Low Altitude Intercept Training (LOWAT), over land, in the 500 feet to 1,000 feet block approximately four times per year. Pilots required real world to be ready to intercept small aircraft and cruise missiles threats below 1,000 feet over land.

2. Proposal lowers the bottom of Condor from 7,000 feet to 500 feet above the ground. Currently, 54 percent of the airspace below Condor is down to 500 feet, on one-way, low-level routes. The change would expand the airspace out to the other 46 percent down to 500 feet, and provide multiple direction flying, not just one way.

3. Proposal would reduce the amount of noise in Maine, because LOWAT training goes below 5,000 feet to 500 feet for five minutes out of a 15-minute intercept, while during low-level training, fighters are continuously below 1,000 feet. Thus, low altitude noise in Maine goes from 50-60 hours per year (average of 45 minutes per week now) to 30-40 hours per year (average of 25 minutes per week in the future).

4. Other airspace was considered and the airspace at Fort Drum, in New York, is built for medium altitude bombing training and the low portion is only 30 miles by 30 miles, too small for an F-15 LOWAT. Condor, however, is 60 miles by 60 miles.

Overall, the change in the airspace over Condor is needed because it is the only airspace that meets the LOWAT training needs of the F-15's pilots defending the Northeast, and the change will significantly reduce the current amount of noise caused by these fighters because they will spend less time at low altitude during LOWAT on each sortie.

As far as details, your assessment is correct on Ms. Ecker using unsubstantiated comments from former pilots to stress a personal agenda. For example: her quote of David Weiland's paraphrased three reasons for using airspace in Maine is essentially correct, except for "increasing sorties." We are actually decreasing sorties if the change goes through.

Corrections on his comments against:

1. We do not fly supersonic over the land, ever. Sustained noise (not "startle noise") causes damage. Startle noise will be momentarily high and may surprise or shock some people, but will not create decibels above the sustained noise levels that humans or animals can tolerate. A 10-30 sec over flight will be very loud, but not damaging.

2. Flares are dropped only above 2,000 feet (on low fire days) on over land areas like Condor, and burn out after a 300-500 foot drop. Flares are dropped at Warren Grove (a bombing range) down to 500 feet above the ground, and in May, started the range on fire, which spread to land outside the bombing range. Tragic event that will not happen on "non-bombing" range airspace like Condor, due to the minimum altitude of 2,000 feet.

3. Risks due to human error are there, but over the years our fighter training has focused training to significantly reduce accidents. This effort has been very successful. Training now is 95 percent safer than 25 years ago. Otis has not had a single F-15 accident ever, in over the 20-plus years of F-15 flying in the Northeast.

4. Commercial service in Condor will not be changed or stopped at all, due to strict FAA oversight, per the specific FAA direction and procedures for Condor. We received and concurred with the procedures they set up. Since we will only activate Condor for about 25 minutes per week, down from the current 40 minutes per week, small aircraft pilots should be happier with less fighters down low. Plus, the small aircraft can call Boston Center anytime on the radio and see if fighters are in the area and where.

5. Airspace in the US is in constant change and any airspace can be altered in the future. If Condor is changed the airspace will be open to all military, but deployments to the Northeast to use Condor will be too expensive for other services to use.

Dave Weiland's alternatives:

1. Fort Drum is too small for F-15 LOWAT. Fort Drum is 30 by 30, and F-15s need at least 60 by 60, which is within Condor.

2. Costs for deployments to Georgia or other areas with LOWAT airspace for F-15s are too expensive to perform on a regular basis.

Brig. Gen. Leon Rice
Massachusetts Air National Guard

LAST CHANCE ON OVERFLIGHTS

To the Editor:

The last opportunity for local citizens to voice their opinions on the acceptability of military aircraft flying at high speeds of 500 feet over their houses and persons is Aug. 15.

Military aircraft are currently limited to 2,000-3,000 (approximately) feet over the same air space. This newly proposed altitude limit will cover essentially all of northwestern Maine and will no longer be confined to a narrow eight-mile wide corridor currently in use for low-level flights.

Approval of this proposal will change, for generations, the safety and quality of life in this region. When active this air space will be closed to all but military aircraft. There will be a definite impact on business in the region. Responsible pilots will not fly in an active MOA (Military Operations Area). Air charter and air taxi services will not allow flights into an active MOA. Recreational flying will be impossible. These restrictions will result in fewer fuel sales at the Bethel Airport and many aircraft bases here will move outside the MOA.

The need for this training is real. The applicant is rightfully seeking the best training facilities. Condor MOA is close to the applicant's new home base and is convenient affording flexibility and efficient use of resources.

The applicant is currently providing air defense for Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, New York, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Connecticut, Rhode Island and Maryland. This commitment requires a mission fuel range of at least 1,000 miles. Condor is approximately 140 miles from the applicant's new Westford, Mass., base. A viable alternative Drum MOA is approximately 100 miles further away. Rome, N.Y., is about 60 miles southeast of Drum MOA affording refueling and emergency maintenance.

I oppose the change to Condor MOA because it compromises public safety (the second mandate in the U.S. Constitution) and it incorporates risk to the air crews seeking training, as it does not have collocated and en-route aircraft support. As a responsible citizen I oppose the negative impact on a state that is recently realizing returns on its tourism investments and beginning to enjoy the benefits of the increasing revenue flow.

You may not agree with me, but a comment is like a vote. Your comment is important. Send your comments to: Federal Aviation Administrations, Attn: AJO2-E2B.9, P.O. Box 20636, Atlanta, Ga 30320.

WE NEED TO KEEP OUR HEADS UP

To the Editor:

Some recent letters related to CONDOR MOA vent on area citizens concerned enough about the long-term health and vitality of our community to travel to hearings and attempt to make sense out of a poorly prepared proposal.

Only when we have good information we can act responsibly as what our founders intended us to be: an informed electorate. Those acting on incomplete, inaccurate information are sticking their heads in the sand, and as a commenter once noted, "that exposes a whole different part of the anatomy"; a part, I might add that is most not known for conducting civil, well-informed discussion.

Route 113 reopens

BATCHELDER'S GRANT—Route 113 through Evans Notch reopened Friday after work on a temporary bridge was completed by the Maine Department of Transportation. Little Lary Brook washed out the previous bridge during the heavy rainstorm of July 11. A new, permanent bridge will be completed at a later date.

Cycle time trial Aug. 19

BETHEL—Area cyclists who like to ride fast will have an opportunity to race the clock at the Maine Time Trial Series' Bethel Time Trial. The event will be held on Sunday, Aug. 19, on Vernon Street. The start and finish are near the American Legion Hall with individual racers departing at intervals in the order in which they register. Registration opens at 8 a.m. and the first rider starts at 9 a.m. on the 13-mile course (out to Hunt's Corner and back). Racers are instructed and expected to ride in the direction of traffic and are required to wear helmets. Those under age 18 must have written parental consent to participate. Each year this event brings from 50 to 90 cyclists to Bethel. All ages and levels of experience are welcome, with special divisions for males and females in different age brackets including ages 17 and under; Tandem, Recumbent, Mountain Bike and a new Police division. There are also awards for fastest "first time" male and female triathletes. Early registration is available either online at www.BikeMaine.org, at the front desk of the Sudbury Inn, or at the bar of the Suds Pub.

Mountain bike park reopens

NEWRY—Sunday River has announced the return of lift serviced downhill mountain biking beginning on Friday, Aug. 10, according to spokesman Alex Kaufman. Sunday River plans to offer mountain biking and scenic chairlift rides on Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays through Columbus Day Weekend. "Popular demand played a big part in the decision to offer mountain biking right away," said Dana Bullen, general manager at Sunday River. "The return of mountain biking to Sunday River is just the first step in growing our four season amenities in the coming years." All rider services and tickets will be available at the South Ridge Lodge with lift service on nearby North Peak. Limited services will be available on the first weekend of operation with additional services including a full service repair and rental shop becoming available by late August. Full details will be available at www.sundayriver.com.

Youth football next week

GREENWOOD—The Greenwood Spartans and the Woodstock Wolfpack youth football teams will begin practice for the 2007 season on Wednesday, Aug. 15 at 5 p.m. at the Greenwood ball field on the Mt. Abram Road. Registrations are being taken at the respective town offices - the equipment and registration fee is $50 per player and scholarships are available. Cleats are not required for the first week but are recommended as the focus will be on conditioning and basic drills. Helmets only will be distributed on the first day followed by more equipment as progress warrants. For more information call Dan Wheeler at 824-3544, Andy Helms at 665-3211, Fred Johnson at 357-2892 or Andy Wheeler at 875-2950.

Rebel football kicks off Monday

BETHEL—The 2007 Telstar High School football season will start on Monday, Aug. 13 at 5:30 on the track. There will be a brief player/parent/coaches meeting followed by mile run and timed 40-yard dash. For more information or questions call 890-6115.

Lecture on local miners and mining

BETHEL—The public is invited to attend a lecture on mining and miners in Oxford County on Friday evening, Aug. 10, 7:30 p.m. in the Dr. Moses Mason House Meeting Room. Van King, who has written and lectured widely on this subject, will present the 2007 Hall Memorial Lecture as the first event of this year's Sudbury Canada Days, Aug. 10-12. The lecture is free and open to anyone interested in attending. The society is also interested in learning of anyone who worked in the mines of Oxford County.

CORRECTION

ONLY TWO BATTER-BOARDS REMOVED—Last week's article on the water level in North, South and Round ponds should have reported that on July 11 Greenwood Road Foreman Allen Seames removed two of the three batter-boards at the top of the Alder River dam.

an who received one of his e-mails to the clubs had been to Bethel before.

"She said it's an absolutely beautiful place, and it would make a great spot for an event," he said.

"Corvettes have been in production since 1953. Beaudoin owns two convertibles himself - 1966 and 1973 models.

On Aug. 18 Corvettes from each of the six generations will be shined and on display. They will compete for "Best of Show" in each category, to be decided by the public and enthusiasts at large.

A lobster bake that day is also open to the public.

There is free admission to the Show & Shine, scheduled for noon to 3:30 p.m. The lobster bake (which includes other traditional cookout foods) will take place under a tent and requires an advance reservation by Aug. 14 (824-2282). The cost is $38.

More information is available at www.bethelmaine.com. The event will wrap up Sunday with a Corvette parade through the village and live music with the Blue Willow Band at the gazebo at 4 p.m.

Patriots to visit

Also on Aug. 18, veterans of the New England Patriots will be in Bethel for a fundraiser to benefit Youth Football in this area.

A flag football game and autograph session is scheduled at Telstar in the afternoon, and a dinner at the Summit Hotel in the evening. (For more details, see advertisement, Page 1.)

Flooding

ary nature," Cole said.

Prospect for homeowner assistance 'not good'

But while public bodies such as the town and water district could look to the state and federal government for some form of assistance dealing with the financial impact of the storm, the outlook for private property owners seeking similar assistance is (in the words of Selectman Dennis Doyon) "not good."

Late last month Bob Laux, whose property across from Angevine Park, was seriously eroded by the flood waters, wrote to the selectmen on behalf of he and his wife, Cynthia, and a number of neighbors who had suffered various degrees of damage.

According to a preliminary tally compiled by Laux, nearby property owners' estimated costs are: Vernon and Tamara Davis, $20,000-$25,000; John and Barbara MacDougal, $35,000-$40,000; Cynthia and Bob Laux, $35,000-$40,000; Doug and Cindy Walker, $5,000-$10,000; Robin Gilbert, $750-$1,000. Total estimate of property loss: $95,750 to $116,000.

In all cases the damages were not covered by homeowners' insurance, because the flood, in an area not classified as floodplain, was considered "an act of God."

Laux told the selectmen he had contacted several agencies and the offices of the state's two U.S. senators, and in all cases he had received a similar message.

"I've been told by everybody that the only potential is to have the town be kind enough to include us in relief efforts," Laux said.

The selectmen were sympathetic, but not overly hopeful the town could do much to help.

"There's not a whole lot we can do," said Doyon. "We don't have a lot of options."

Stan Howe, chairman of the selectmen, assured Laux and the other property owners that the town would "go for everything we can get" to assist them.

But he added, "unfortunately there's not much we can do at the moment."

The town has been able to at least repair damage to the MacDougal and Walker driveways, which, Cole said, was simply "the right thing to do."

But he feared the town would not be able to do much more.

"I spoke to Scott Parker, our county emergency services contact, and he was not optimistic," Cole said.

What optimism there is here hinged in part on President Bush approving a half million dollars in federal assistance requested by Maine Gov. John Baldacci last month.

Initially it was uncertain the application would be approved, especially given the highly localized nature of damage from the flood.

"FEMA doesn't respond unless there's 2,500 people affected, and there's only five of us," Laux said Monday.

But Wednesday afternoon the town learned that the president had signed off on the disaster relief.

Still, Barbara MacDougal had another suggestion on how the town could help the private property owners.

"Would the town like to buy my property?" she asked the selectmen. "It's right across the road from the swimming hole. You could make a nice parking lot ... or whatever."

town dropped $128,000, from $1,931,462 to $1,803,265.

Tuesday Newry's three office employees were hard at work preparing 3,225 tax bills for mailing.

Printing and folding the bills and stuffing and sealing envelopes is an all-day event for Loretta Powers, Anita Clark and Laura Lowell.

The town has a population of less than 400, but the many condominiums and timeshares at Sunday River Ski Resort generate thousands of bills.

Some of the bills are sent as far away as Switzerland and England, administrative assistant Loretta Powers said.

In comparison Bethel, with a population of about 2,400, will send out 2,732 tax bills.

Woodstock, with a population of about 1,310, mails out approximately 1,400 tax bills.

Score

"Poetry Live(s)" is St. Pierre's first soundtrack as a solo composer.

The music for "Poetry Live(s)" draws from her varied musical background, which includes study of classical piano, flute, and voice at Stephens College, and medieval and Renaissance music at Morley College, University of London.

Over the past 25 years, she has played and sung in rock, punk, and avant-garde bands.

For the "Poetry Live(s)" soundtrack, she used drums, sequencing, synthesizers, guitar, percussion, samples from flute, harp and saxophone, and at the request of the producer, slide whistle and kazoo.

"I got the job through one of my film music agents, in California," said St. Pierre.

"Composing for films is very competitive. Mark Freeman called me based on samples of my music that were submitted over the Internet. I had previous experience recording music with poets and spoken-word artists here at The Outlook, and I think that is one of the assets that Mark recognized when he contracted me for the music composition. Another advantage was the studio, and Ted's expertise as an engineer and music editor."

They started work on the project in May of 2006. The final cuts of the music were sent over the Internet in August.

"The entire project was done communicating over the Internet. We never met Mark in person," said St. Pierre.

Other work

Music from St. Pierre's im-provisational ensemble, Forest Floor, was featured in an award-winning documentary film, "Tree-Sit: The Art of Resistance," about Julia Butterfly Hill and the fight to save the ancient redwood forests.

She has also worked with Ted composing music for theatre, including The Boston Shakespeare Company's "Macbeth," and "Romeo & Juliet," and soundtracks for mime artists Jackie Reifer, and Trent Arterberry.

Her New Age albums are used for yoga, meditation, tai chi, reiki, massage, and other healing arts.

Freeman's previous documentaries include "Mad River: Hard Times in Humboldt County," a portrait of a rural community facing environmental and economic disaster.

Greenwood

ment, including the Cascade system used for refilling air packs.

The Cascade system is Greenwood's contribution to local mutual aid efforts, under which individual towns each pay for and agree to share one specialized piece of emergency-response equipment.

Newry, for example, provides a ladder truck, Bethel the Jaws of Life and open-water rescue equipment, and Woodstock a large-capacity tank truck and ice-rescue equipment.

Greenwood's current truck, a quarter of a century old, will not pass another inspection, but at their Annual Meeting town voters balked at paying $225,000 for a brand new replacement.

Instead, Fire Chief Jim Owen was instructed to come up with a less expensive way of replacing the current vehicle.

Working with the town's newly formed Capital Improvement Committee he did.

Owen and the committee are now recommending the town spend $75,000 to purchase a 1992 Ford LTL9000 truck from a fire department in Maryland.

And for that price, Owen told the selectmen Tuesday, the town would get not only the truck body, but also $132,000 in equipment and tools that will come with it.

If approved by voters, the truck would be paid for with a five-year loan.

Over the course of the five years, the average Greenwood taxpayer would pay a total of $65 (or $13 a year) toward the purchase, according to a calculation by the CIC.

The other item on which a decision was "deferred" in March, $7,900 for recreational maintenance, will also be taken up again at the Aug. 21 meeting.

The exact amount of money that will go back to voters has not yet been calculated, Town Manager Kim Sparks said Tuesday, but it is likely to be somewhat lower than the original figure, in large part thanks to the efforts of unpaid volunteers who have been taking care of the parks.

Other items

Voters at the special Town Meeting will also decide if they wish to have the town pick up the estimated $3,000 a year cost of maintaining the former MDOT rest area on Route 26, across from the Greenstock Transfer Station.

MDOT has decided to discontinue the rest area, but has agreed to leave the facilities in place, if the town is willing to take over maintenance responsibility (the land is already owned by the town).

Ordinances

Voters at the Town Meeting will also take up two ordinance proposals.

One calls for adoption of a town Littering Ordinance, which would establish a schedule of penalties for first, second, and third-time violators.

The penalties would range from $200, plus the cost of cleanup, to $2,000 plus cleanup.

The second ordinance proposal is an overhaul of the town's out-of-date Appeals Board Ordinance.

The most significant change, from the earlier ordinance, would be the stipulation that Appeals Board reviews must be "de jure" rather than "de novo."

Under a de jure review an appellant board considers only the appropriateness of the manner in which an earlier board handled an application.

Under a de novo review the appellant board must conduct its own full, independent regulatory review of an application.

The Aug. 21 Town Meeting will be held in the Greenwood Town Hall and will begin at 7 p.m.

The Way I See It

by Sharon Bouchard

Sharon Bouchard's column is published by special arrangement with the Advertising Department

"To sleep, perchance to dream." I believe that comes from Shakespeare.

Considering that during the Bard's lifetime mattresses were basically cloth bags filled with straw, leaves, pine needles and other organic material, that quote takes on a less romantic sound.

The innerspring mattress, as we know it, did not exist in the 1500s, but mattress stuffing of organic materials that attracted various bugs, mice and other vermin did. I imagine a good night's sleep was not that easy to come by. "Nightie night, don't let the bedbugs bite," was a quote of no laughing matter in the days of yore.

The quest for a good night's sleep, however, still goes on. When you consider that we spend at least a third of our lives sleeping, or attempting to, the comfort of a mattress is pretty darn important.

Finding a comfortable mattress is a lot easier said than done. The stores that sell them don't mind if you lay down on one to test it out, but they are a bit testy about letting you sleep overnight until you find the right one. Not to mention that you might feel just a little bit exposed sleeping in the middle of a large showroom.

Recently there was a segment on The Today Show about sleep and the role that a good mattress plays in achieving that end. According to that show, enjoying sleep is today's sex. Based on that I am certainly not getting enough.

Also, according to that show there are mattresses priced up as high as $60,000!

I can't imagine spending that kind of money on a mattress and if I did I would certainly want to test it out for a few nights before I handed over two years of income.

At $60,000 I would want it to do more than just lay there. I would at least want it to give me a full body massage and sing me a lullaby too. At $60,000 I would not only want a guarantee of a great night's sleep, I'd want a guarantee that I would get up in the morning with no aches and pains and a significant weight loss to boot! That might be a mattress worth $60,000.

I like the idea of the Memory Foam assuming that it doesn't lose its memory after a few years.

Zalmon Simmons didn't charge $60,000 for his "Beautyrest" innerspring mattress, it was after all 1925 when he developed it. He did however price them at $39.50, which was more than double the price of the best hair-stuffed mattresses that were common at that time.

Zalmon, being the clever fellow that he was, didn't market the mattress like other companies, he instead marketed "scientific sleep" and used such notables as Thomas Edison, Henry Ford, H.G. Wells and Guglielmo Marconi in his advertising campaigns.

Sleep research was a relatively new field at that time, but apparently marketing sleep using famous people rather than just a mattress was a stroke of genius because by 1929 the "Beautyrest" mattress was the number one seller in the U.S. and stuffed mattresses were being thrown out faster than the garbage collectors could collect them.

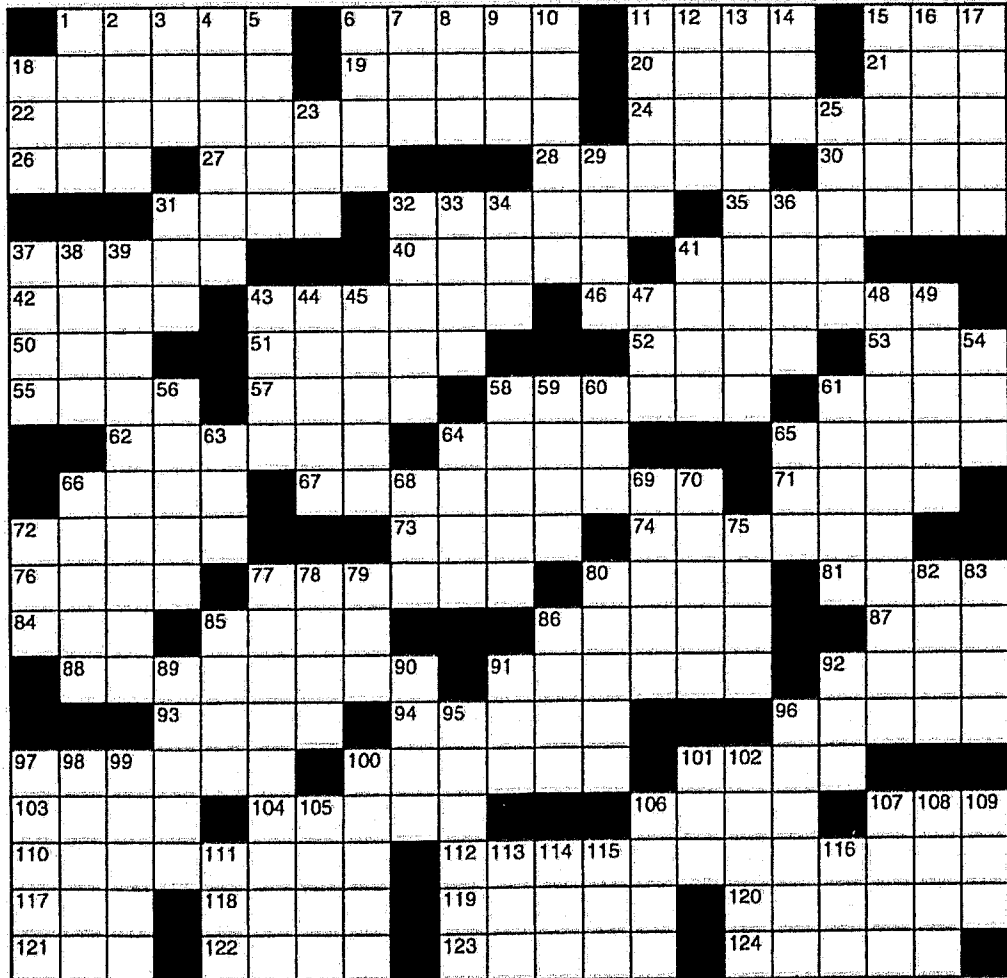

Now, 82 years later sleep is being touted as the new sex and there are more types of mattresses than one could ever imagine.

There are, of course, conventional mattresses including the "Beautyrest." There are water core filled mattresses that have replaced the once popular waterbed. The Memory Foam mattress that you can jump up and down on and not spill a glass of wine should you be inclined to drink wine in bed. There is the Sleep Number bed where you and your sleep partner can have a different firmness and there is a $60,000 mattress.

I could use a new mattress, but it won't be a $60,000 one I can assure you. I don't know what type of mattress it will be because there are so many to choose from. I like the idea of the Memory Foam assuming that it doesn't lose its memory after a few years. You never know when I might want to have a glass of wine in bed and spend some time jumping up and down.

I do know that I don't want to make a snap decision on something so important, so the way I see it I would be better off to just "sleep on it" a while before I actually make a purchase.

HERO OF THE YEAR HONORED—Oxford County Voiture (Unit) 613 of the Forty & Eight honored Bethel Police Chief Alan Carr as Voiture 613 Hero of the Year at Peru American Legion Post 99 on June 10. Carr received this award for his actions in saving a Bethel woman from being seriously injured or killed in a freak accident in February when her car pinned her between the vehicle's rear wheels and a snowbank. Carr lifted the rear of the vehicle enough to take most of the car's weight off the woman's chest, permitting her to breathe until additional rescuers arrived to extricate her. Two weeks after receiving the Oxford County award, Carr was similarly honored by the Grande (state) Level 40 & 8 with the state Hero of the Year Award at the annual state 40 & 8 convention in Bangor. Pictured in the photo from left to right: Charles (Chuck) Berube, presenting officer and past Grande du Maine; Arthur Park, Littlefield Beaches owner; Voiture 613 Chief de Gare Richard R. Roberts (triple R), Chief Carr, Voiture 613 Correspondent (secretary) Richard Grover. The Forty & Eight is a veterans' organization formed after the end of World War I and makes light-hearted sport of the unpleasant conditions the WWI Doughboys found in France and the trenches of that war. The 40 & 8 name came from the French narrow-gauge boxcars stamped with the symbol 40/8, which meant they could transport either 40 troops or 8 horses at a time. Forty men were often crowded into a small boxcar after it had just carried eight horses. The 40 & 8 now performs services for veterans and families in need, provides scholarships for nurses training, and raises funds to assist in disaster relief and to support other charitable causes.

Bethel

Mayville and Around Town

By Donald G. Bennett
More water for the Bethel Water District was trucked in on Monday from Rumford, Monday's mid-day rain amounted to 1.4 inches in the BWD rain gauge at its Chapman Brook treatment plant. Sunday, the Blake Farm was bailing hay in their field along Route 28; it appeared to be about as good a looking hay as you can get.

A special Bethel Town Meeting may be called for Aug. 20 to act on spending and block grant issues. Likely articles include the water district expenses, Angevine Park expenses, damage to private property resulting from the 7/11 storm, and financial support to the Bethel Sno-Twisters club for borrowing money to buy a new snow-grooming machine. Emerson Merrill pointed out that we have the million-and-a-half-dollar bridge but keeping trails to it open and groomed is going to be a challenge. The club needs to borrow $45,000 to buy a secondhand groomer for this winter.

The current Locke Mills water level "hub-ub" recalls an 1890s Locke Mills water level hub-ub. Stephen Seames has given me some historical information that may be of interest now. The E.L. Tebbets Company took steps to raise the water level for more water-power at the spool mill (which had burned to the ground in February 1891, and was soon rebuilt — Tebbets' new mill opened in January 1892) but the adverse side effect was to create flooding in the lowland areas south of the mill dam. Seames said that this move was bound to and did prompt legal disputes and damage claims from affected landowners.

Arthur Park, Littlefield Beaches owner, was at the Bethel selectmen's meeting on Monday evening to ask for the board's support in the broader economic sense of the Locke Mills water level debate. His point to the Bethel board was that his business does much to help Bethel's and neighboring towns' economy. Raising the water level beyond what dam engineer James Sysko has recommended would quite possibly jeopardize or ruin his business with a subsequent economic loss to the region surrounding Greenwood. Bethel selectmen voted to communicate with Greenwood to this effect and support Sysko's recommendations. Littlefield Beaches Campground opened in 1958.

Back to water level history — I would be grateful for more details about the 1890s water level episode if anyone has them.

Final call for local artists to show their work at the Sudbury Canada Days outdoor art exhibit on Saturday, Aug. 11. Bring your work to the lawn by Stan Howe's house on Saturday morning.

John Cheney reports that his son Eric is on special duty as a line medic with firefighters who are battling large forest fires in Utah and Idaho. Eric's home employment is with the Sanford, Maine, Fire Department. He attended Southern Maine Technical College where he achieved an associate degree in Fire Science. Eric and Josh Young began their firefighting careers in the Bethel Fire Department and went on from there. John said that Josh is now with the New York City Fire Department (NYFD).

Irving led the Mayville Road gasoline trio in dropping its base price to $2.85 per gallon on Friday.

Sunday morning around 5, Kathy awakened by a loud thump. She got up to see what happened and saw a young black bear sitting on the steps to our deck helping himself to our birdfeeder.

Screw Auger Falls picnic area 70 years later: Kathy, her mother, grandson Ashton and your correspondent enjoyed lunch at the falls' Bear River side picnic area. The occasion for me was the 70th anniversary of my first visit in 1937. In the '30s to '60s era before the state park was established, there was only one large roofed-over picnic table and two rock fireplaces in the same clearing where the information geological history boards are now displayed. Screw Auger Falls must be one of Maine's finest outdoor assets.

The Riverside Cemetery Association has received 32 new contributions totaling over $5,000. Treasurer Roger Conant said that amount added to earlier donations puts the special fund drive total at $10,052. The association is very grateful for all this support. Names of all contributors, Friends of the Riverside Cemetery, will be listed on the association's website news found at www.thebetheljournal.com and click Riverside Cemetery then News.

Railroad historian John Davis e-mailed that he had noted (the question about rail shipments of minerals from Bethel) in the Citizen's July 28 edition, and as Grand Trunk New England Lines editor for Canadian National Special Interest Group, he had contacted several retired employees who entered train and administrative service in the latter 1940s about what they remembered of such shipments. Davis also researched files at the Oxford County Registry of Deeds.

There Davis has found where Harold Perham and Harry Bumpus agreement in 1927 allowed for the former to mine and ship out of the latter's mine by the carload from Bethel, to West Paris. The 1927 agreement was amended shortly afterward to include Beryl, Lapeditolite and Pollucite. Perham filed bankruptcy in 1933 and the trustee issued Harry and Laura Bumpus a quitclaim deed to Harold's contracts. Davis also found a number of references to Perham's having agreements with others to mine feldspar on their properties in Paris, Canton, Peru and Hebron, which was shipped to the Oxford Mining & Milling Company at West Paris.

More from John Davis about past mineral mining and shipping will be in next week's column and his full reply contained in a number of e-mails is online at www.thebetheljournal.com Railroad%20Journal.htm.

Last Friday, the Bethel Area Trails Committee held its monthly meeting at the Mahosuc Land Trust offices. The meeting turned into a good clearing house of trails and recreation information from the Friends of Davis Park provided by Maura Rodway and Nancy Babcock; Maine Handicapped Ski program by Wendy Iseman, who is the program's development and PR director; and Rick Young, who represented the GreenStock Snowmobile Club.

Maine Handicapped Skiing operates a summer program that includes golf and paddling. Ms. Iseman pointed out various features of the program that are or could be connected to Bethel. She also briefly discussed the addition of programs for veterans with disabilities that are increasingly needed in Maine. Mr. Young talked about some of the physical requirements for making trails multiuse such as the width of fencing on turns — more width is required for the trail grooming machines than for just the sleds. He also raised the question of snowmobile trails that head south from Davis Park — currently the trail parallels the railroad but it might find a useable alternative in the proposed Davis Park to Telstar trail. Due to wetland areas, this latter trail project requires more design and engineering work before the committee can obtain DEP approval.

There was some discussion about the scheduled Sept. 10 second hearing on a Mason Street sidewalk. Although there are no plans to actually canvass the neighborhood, the plan's proponents will try to get School Board and Chamber of Commerce statements of support for the sidewalk plan.

Steve Wight said that he had talked with people representing the new owners of Sunday River and found them expansive looking in their plans for summer recreation, particularly trails toward Bethel and they also seemed amenable to increasing snowmobile access to Sunday River facilities.

West Bethel

by Lorrie Hoeh

After too many days of high heat and humidity (but still no rain!), the weather broke quite suddenly on Saturday afternoon. The air cleared, the sun shone brightly, the sky was bluebird blue, and the temperature went down to 50 degrees Saturday night, making for great sleeping. On Monday morning we noted that we'd had a low of 42 degrees overnight, and it was still mid-40s at the start of my walk. Sure is nice to walk sans bugs in August! However, we still need rain badly.

Thursday morning before last, I met Linda Westleigh and daughter Lisa Pivin at Serendipity Café, getting their coffee and sustenance for a trip to Boston. They headed first to Pine Point Beach, where they met up with Lisa's daughter, Laura, then continued on to Lexington, Mass., where they stayed with Linda's Aunt Isabel Bennett.

On Friday and Saturday, the 28th and 29th of July, the group headed for downtown Boston, where they all attended the Women of Faith Conference and had what Linda describes as a rejuvenating experience. The program is put on by a team of women who travel around the country with their positive, uplifting presentation. This particular session drew 20,000 women. I suspect that Linda has already marked her calendar for next year. Sunday was spent with Aunt 'Bel.

Speaking of Linda, this past Sunday she had the usual after-church-breakfast crowd at her home, instead of going to a restaurant. Reports are that the food was delicious, and a fine time was had by all.

Saturday at the Hoehstead was picnic day for us and two of our daughters and their families. Of course the Siegels were there, as was our eldest, Cyndy, and her family, who had just returned Aug. 1 from a six-week sojourn in Europe, where they visited Slovenia, Italy, Switzerland, and France. Son-in-law Paul has relatives all over the place, so lodging was mostly taken care of. The two girls each spent time with cousins or friends in France and had a chance to practice the language.

Part of the impetus for the trip was that there were two big family events to attend. One was the wedding of a cousin in France; the other, the 70th birthday party of Uncle Andrew Stancioff in a villa in Italy. The photos were spectacular, and I found myself wishing I had been there.

Speaking of birthdays, I hear that Verna Thayer just celebrated her 90th! Happy Birthday, Verna, and many happy returns of the day.

And related to a more recent birth, the DeGruttolas were spotted on the Flat Road on Sunday, pushing a baby carriage. I expect that baby Kay-an enjoyed his outing on that perfect day.

Monday evening the Senior Players of Bethel performed three pieces as part of the annual Performing Arts Festival. I hope that some of you were able to make it. There are programs all week long, so check it out.

I'll talk to you next week. Get in touch at 836-3011 or dhoe@megalink.net.

Upton

by Eleanor LeComte

Last week the announcement on the Mahosuc Land Trust meeting had an error on the date. "Typos happen." The correct date and time is Aug. 14 at 7 p.m. The place is the Upton School House. Let's not forget that dessert will be served.

Samuel Upton of South Carolina and Sarah Lake of Sanborn, N.H., were married on Saturday on Barnes Hill. Destiny must have had a hand in it to draw them to this area. The view from Barnes Hill is outstanding. It's a beautiful place for a wedding. We wish the happy couple a long life together and may the Uptons return to Upton and the lake many times in the future.

This is a blueberry year. There are many good fields in the area and I better get out and pick some or there will be no blueberry muffins this year.

The stretch of extreme hot weather was broken with a violent thunderstorm on Friday. "Dime size" hail bounced off the hood of my car as I drove up East "B" Hill. We now have beautiful warm weather. Early in the morning clouds envelope the lake but by 10 a.m. it has dissipated. It's like this every August.

The Andover Olde Home Week celebrations were attended by many people from Upton. I met up with the Angelines, the Wixoms and the Millers. Sue Nelson arrived early to check out the Yard Sales. Liz Stanczyk attended with her daughter-in-law, Kay. Patty Kenyon and Debbie Freedman also enjoyed the show. We thank the ladies in Andover who invited us to enter flowers in the show. Carolyn Taylor, Patty Kenyon and yours truly all received ribbons for their arrangements. Carolyn entered a bouquet in honor of Clyde and Barbara Stratton, who were unable to attend. All the flowers in the arrangement were from Barbara's garden on Birch Point. Diane Bouchard, Carolyn's guest, won a quilt that was donated by Jane Rich.

The bear is still making his rounds in the neighborhood. He visits a different home every night. Last night he knocked over two plant pots with tomatoes in them. Not even the bear would eat those green monsters. Every birdfeeder, including hummer feeders are secured at dusk, but he is still looking. Chokecherries and berries are ripening and we hope he finds them soon. The poor guy is hungry and we are tired of moving feeders.

The road beyond the Balsams, Route 26, is having a major overhaul. New bridges are being erected. Curves are disappearing. It should be a major improvement en route to Colebrook and Canada.

Sunday evening, a "Boat Party" was held on the lake off Potter Farm. Four pontoon boats were lashed together for easy access of the great desserts that passed back and forth. A Champagne Toast was offered to the Wixoms, who have sold their camp and are leaving the area with plans to travel. We will miss them a lot.

The blue heron is stalking the cove for frogs. Ginny sees the eagle almost every day and the geese have returned again. Their little ones are not little anymore. We saw five loons on Sunday evening, but loons seem to be scarce this year. The "Hummers" are having a rough time battling the hornets, which I am not too fond of.

The "Bird of the Week" is the yellow-shafted flicker who is right on his August schedule of hunting ants in the roadside. They do this every year.

Welcome to Bob and Charlotte who have purchased the Douglass Homestead from Peg and Bob Dapolito.

Alder River Grange will have a meeting with West Paris Grange at the hall on Aug. 10. There will be a 6:30 p.m. supper and the meeting at 7:30 p.m. West Paris will fill the chairs and provide the program.

Debbie Eldredge of Unity visited Millie Jackson on Aug. 3 and 4. On Aug. 4, Millie and Debbie attended Florence Hastings' 103rd birthday party at the Homestead.

On Aug. 5, Millie Jackson attended the third birthday party for Emily Mikool at Range Pond State Park in Poland.

Neil Olson's Trappers Weekend will be Aug. 17-19 at his place on the East Bethel Road.

The Hastings family gathered at the Farm to celebrate Florence's 103rd birthday.

Arlene Harrington visited Dawson and Judy Smith in Surry from July 9 to Aug. 1. All the children and grandchildren came to visit with Arlene while she was there. The weather was perfect with just one rainy evening.

Greenwood City

by Wayne Hakala

I did not go, as so many have pointed out. I would have rather been there than being confined in the recliner with my left leg elevated. There were several accounts of all the opinions given and I probably have not heard them all to date. The main point is that people came out and voiced their concerns. And there will be a lot more study going into the water levels.

The recliner and I have been very close this week, along with the heating pad. I am surprised no one has reported the growling as I have been doing it rather loudly. Anita certainly has selective hearing, rather myself. Anita took me to the VA Clinic to be checked out on Thursday and all was happy with me. Keep up the plan of attack and be good. ME? Oh well I'll be done with the antibiotics on Wednesday.

And on Thursday we did stop at Sam's, as I just knew there was a big hug waiting for me. Maggie was there and I really got the squeeze on me several times. We had a nice visit for a few minutes to catch up on all the news. Bill and Maggie's grandson is doing well and growing fast. Guess he figures he needs to catch up to his grandfather. And Bill has given up smoking which is really wonderful. You hear that Freda?

Hannelore called on Monday. She had a bear caller on Sunday evening. Seems her cats came a running and a hissing. Hannelore heard something out the back and went into her sunroom to look out on the back deck. For sure Mr. Bear was very happily engaged in cleaning out the birdfeeders. Hannelore watched him for a minute and Mr. Bear noticed her. Well Mr. Bear decided he would stand up and be counted. Hannelore said he reached the top rail of the deck. So that is well over six feet. At this point Hannelore decided that a great deal of noise was in order and went for pots. She clanged them together with a great deal of pent up energy and sent Mr. Bear upon his way.

Well you know that Mr. Bear sure wasn't done for one night. He made his way over to Richardson Hollow Road to visit with the Hendersons. Carol related the experience to Anita and was rather vocal at times. Seems Mr. Bear tripped over the granddaughter's little red wagon making a great deal of noise. From this opening, Mr. Bear went all out for the garbage can and did a noisy opening and placing many pieces in various points all over the yard. As if this wasn't enough, Mr. Bear investigated an old VCR in a box awaiting a free ride to the Swap Shop. He tore open the box and decided to reconfigure the VCR. I'm sure no one wants to claim the VCR now. Carol says it was dragged out into the woods in little pieces and she wasn't going after it. At last report, Fred was busy making the garbage can, "Mr. Bear proof." Good luck Fred!

I had to pass on a day of fishin' at Azisochos with my buddy Paul. So I sent Ray as a sub. Ray did have a heck of a good time but only managed to catch one smelt. Even little Jacob caught a nice salmon to bring home. I guess that we need to sit Ray down and explain the finer points of fishin' at Azisochos. But a bad day of fishin' is better any day of the week than a good day at work.

On Saturday, Anita's brother and sister-in-law arrived with lobsters. Actually it was to celebrate Anita's and Bruce's birthdays. Anita's just a bit late and Bruce's a wee bit early. What we really need to do is celebrate a birthday each month. Now me, lobster, and corn-on-the-cob get along very famously and plan on for many more birthdays. I really didn't have much to do except to get to the table. Wicked good!

On Sunday morning, we joined the Wilburs and went to Mechanic Falls to Roscoe's Rocking Railroad Buffet for breakfast. Any time that you put Wayne, buffet and breakfast together in the same sentence, you have a happy tummy. We were early by my standards these days, but well worth it. Weren't long and many more arrived and really started to fill up the establishment. Both Harold and I had seconds on about all, and I'm not sure if not more. But from fruit to Belgian waffles and omelets and all were so good.

As we were finishing, in walked just about all the Perhams, John came over to give his cousin Dorene a big hug and a lot of talk to boot. Then in came my cousins and more bull. Then we had to stop and catch up with all the Perhams. It was a wonderful morning with good food, good friends and family. And the day was so good.

On a more serious note, there has been a lot at Hick's Cemetery very graciously given for Roger Smith's final resting spot. Arrangements are being made for a headstone and I believe if anyone would like to donate to it, the help would be appreciated. You could drop off any donation at the Greenwood Town Office.

Also on Thursday evening the Greenwood Capital Improvement Committee held a meeting. Chief Owens had specs on a Heavy Rescue Truck that he placed a bid on. Also the chief and captain had gone to inspect this machine. They had a lot of facts and many fine pictures. Including many from the underside of the truck. And, as so many know, that is the one place that really quickly tells on the condition of any vehicle. I was really impressed with the total package and the price. I don't have all the facts here tonight, but this truck will allow the Fire Department the necessary capacity of legally carrying six firefighters, air supply, tools, electric and air power supply for lighting and equipment, and many heavy rescue tools. Now this truck is fully geared except for placing the SCBA fill station in it and that is a minor expense. The main thing is that it allows our firefighters to be in compliance with NFPA standards. Also it increases our capacity of providing SCBA (Self Contained Breathing Apparatus) filling to our NOMA (Northern Oxford Mutual Aid) partners. This isn't just for Greenwood, but will help out the region in which we do have a very good working relationship.

I am for this Heavy Rescue truck. I believe that we of Greenwood have some of the best people working on our behalf. But we need to stand up and provide them with the necessary equipment to do with. I know for a fact that the Firemen's Association will do some fundraising to help with the expense. In addition, I'm telling all tonight that Anita and I will be joining the association to help raise the needed dollars. We believe and many more need to believe too!

My good buddy Bob in Texas called this evening and we laughed for almost three hours. Actually Bob called to let me know how he loves his Gravelly. Mows his lawn in an hour instead of four and he doesn't break a sweat. Also he had his one-year checkup and no sign of any cancer. So life really is wicked good!

Bedtime. So be happy and keep the sun on your face!

Ken and Maryann Langley and son Phillip were at their camp a couple days last week. Their primary efforts were involved in cleaning up the camp after several years of limited use and also giving away some of Phillip's childhood toys. (Anyone need a small oil heater?) Phillip is starting a college career at Bowdoin College in Brunswick this month. We are hoping to see more of the Langleys with Phillip "schooling" in Maine for the next four years.

This has been a hard year for gardening so far this year; a cool, wet spring and early summer got everything off to a slow start, and now everything is drying out and burning up with the hot, humid "dog days." We are still eating green peas on Aug. 5, the first time in my life I can remember having peas in August! At the same time other crops are drying up and out unless given supplemental water. My 5hp garden irrigating pump quit working, so I have spent several hours carrying water to keep essential stuff green (squash, strawberry and raspberry plants, tomatoes, peppers, cucumbers, broccoli and some string beans). The corn has big gaps (thanks to the

On Monday, I went to Mexico to get my driver's license renewed. I'm still trying to figure out how they got my license picture to come out looking like a clown. It must be a trick camera!

FYI: there's a service station in Rumford that is selling unleaded regular for $2.69! It is on the corner of Route 2, where Route 2 turns right at a traffic light and heads downhill past Hosmer Field and into Mexico. Check it out if you go over there.

Gilead

The weather was so hot this past week that we actually turned on the air conditioner.

The Little Lary Brook

Bridge on Route 113 is now open to traffic. There was a temporary bridge installed, since the one there was destroyed during the heavy rain in July.

Jakob Hooper celebrated his second birthday (July 30) with a party recently at his home. He is the son of Chris and Bethany Hooper and the grandson of Fernand and Beverley Corriveau all of Gilead. There were several relatives from around the area who attended.

This past weekend Capt. and Mrs. Stephen McLain and their children, Marina, Nathan and Quinn arrived in Gilead for a visit.

Stephen is the son of Steve and Lise McLain. We had not seen them for quite a while, so it was great to have them stop by for a visit. On Saturday, they had a family get-together at the McLain home. Stephen's brother, Brad McLain and his wife, Adrienne Vail of Newry, stopped by to attend. On Sunday, there was another gathering at the home of Gerard Dupont (Stephen's grandfather) and those in attendance (besides Steve and Lise McLain) were Andre and Eileen Dupont of Gorham, N.H., and also their son, Michael Dupont.

Stephen and his family have just moved to Virginia where he has started a new assignment for the Army.

Selectmen's Meeting
The next selectmen's meeting will be held on Aug. 15 at the Town Hall at 7 p.m.

Gilead Historical Society
This coming weekend on Aug. 11 the GHS will travel to Gorham, N.H., to take part in the Centennial Celebration of the 100-year-old Grand Trunk Railroad Station sponsored by the Gorham Historical Society. The day will begin at 9 a.m., and they are offering train rides, a model train show, musical and singing groups and a large tent on the Common with various vendors. There will be an Antique and Classic Car Show, photograph displays, an evening Contra Dance and so much more. Call Mary Jane at (603) 466-2085 for more information.

The Bethel Historical Society is celebrating Sudbury Canada Days this weekend also. On Aug. 10 there will be a lecture on "Minerals and Mining in Oxford County, Maine" by Vandal T. King of Rochester, N.Y. Saturday and Sunday will be packed with the 18th Century Re-enactors, a horse-shoe tournament, children's parade, children's games, an ice cream eating contest, traditional craft demonstrations and exhibits, flower show, art show and lots more. Stop by the Bethel Historical Society and check it out.

Hanover

by Clem Worcester

The Environmental Protection Agency last week conducted a study of Howard Pond by taking sediment samples from the pond's floor. The researchers believe they will be able to uncover hundreds of years of the pond's history. It has been reported that a 30-centimeter core could have as much as 300 years' history to look at.

The Howard Pond study is part of a nationwide effort to assess the health of ponds and will be part of a report for Congress. Howard Pond was one of 40 lakes and ponds in Maine randomly chosen for the study.

Frank Bulger of Rumford was named Rumford's Citizen of the Year recently. Frank was well known as a long-time Rumford School Department bus driver. With his wife, Bonnie, they ran DJ's restaurant at the site of the former Rumford Zoo until it burned. For a while Frank and Bonnie lived in Hanover. Currently, Frank and Bonnie volunteer at the Falls Hill Information Booth. Frank is known to help anyone in need. Congratulations, Frank, a well-deserved honor! Rumford Board of Selectman Chairman Greg Buccina presented the award.

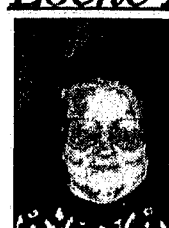

In an event such as the Gardner Roberts Memorial Library Dedication it is easy to overlook some who worked like the dickens and didn't get appropriate recognition. Some of those who deserve more recognition than before mentioned are Kelly Harrington, who helped with set-up and balloons and Jenny and Matt Tirrell who traveled from their Oxford home to cook for the afternoon. Chris Howe of Gordie Howe's Store was a great help by arranging for the entertainment and food. Also, special thanks to We Party Supply for providing the balloons. The efforts of every volunteer made this community event successful and enjoyable.

Barb and Irv Robinson are traveling from Maryland to Colorado on bicycles this summer. At last report they had spent nine days traveling across Kansas and by the weekend had arrived in Colorado. At one stopover the campsite was too crowded so the local sheriff found a place for them to stay and let them use the jail facilities for showers. After biking across mid America they probably — well anyway — Barb and Irv don't appear to be the jailbird type!

Long-time Hanover resident John Morse died July 31 at the age of 82 at his home in Roxbury where he lived with his cousin, Kathleen Knapp. He had lived over 50 years at the Morse Farm in Hanover with an uncle, Horace Morse. He attended Hanover schools and Gould Academy. Mr. Morse was a very friendly person who enjoyed helping people. Private funeral services were planned.

There are times when I could cheerfully throw this computer at the wall and see if it would straighten it out. I went to all the trouble of writing my news early, but when I went to send it the computer said I couldn't because the file had been corrupted. Great! Why I do not learn to keep a hard copy of things is more than I can figure out. After all these years, I have learned once the news is written to put it out of my mind so I never can remember what I have written.

When I first started doing it, the column just stayed in my mind annoying me. I would write and rewrite until I decided enough was enough and I learned how to erase it. That is fine until I run up against something like this and then I wish I could remember what I had written.

I know that I must have written that Gerry Shimamura took me to my doctor on Friday for my annual check-up. He said there were a couple tests he wanted to run that the hospital had not run when I was there last week, so I had to make an appointment for that.

My daughter, Marcia Smith, came Sunday for a visit of ten days or so. I got a chance to say Hello-Goodbye (somewhat like the commercial) to my son-in-law, Jon. He was in a hurry to get back to Easton because he

FIGURES OF SPEECH

THEATRE COMPANY PRESENTS

CUPID & PSYCHE

A puppet show for the whole family

Figures of Speech Theatre, founded in 1982, tours locally and internationally with ground-breaking performances that incorporate drama, puppetry, masks, music and storytelling. As part of the Maine Performing Arts Festival they will be presenting 'Cupid & Psyche', where actors and gods, puppets and people, music and magic all come together in a classic myth. But be prepared for the unusual in this time-bending production: Venus has an agent and Zeus wields a bullhorn. Each has plans for Cupid and Psyche, whose search for love rings as true today as it did 2000 years ago. Cupid and Psyche celebrates the human spirit in the best kind of tale: a love story with a happy ending.

wanted to tend his garden and do other things around the house while he was on vacation.

Marcia brought their one-hundred-pound Rottie-Lab mix, Sadie, with her. She is black like Chloe and is a gentle giant. It is cute to watch Sadie with Chloe. She treats her like a somewhat pesky puppy, which I suppose she still is. When Chloe gets too rowdy Sadie just lays a paw on her and washes her face. It certainly is a study in contrasts, a 100-pounder and a 9-pounder!

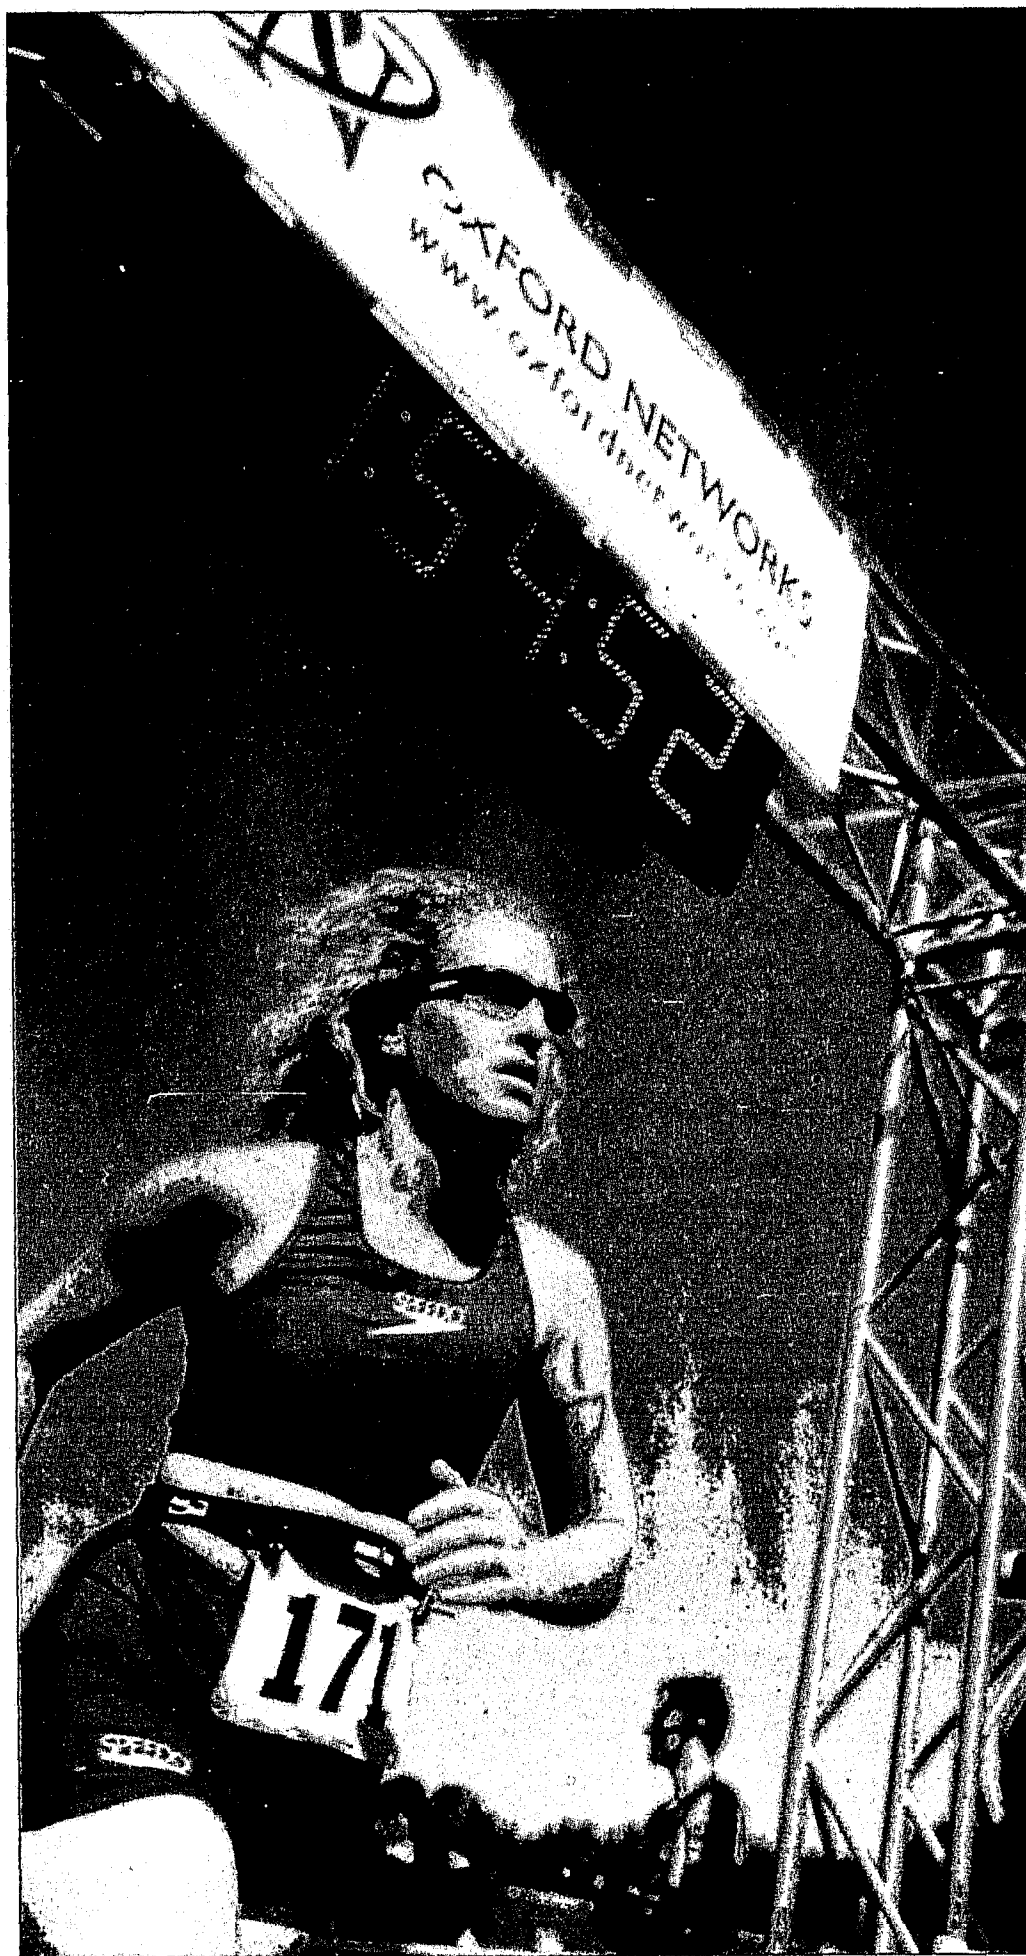

On Wednesday, Ralph took Marcia and me to Norway where I could get my blood work done and then we had lunch at Steve's and then went shopping. Lorene didn't go because she had gotten tangled up in Kia's rope and took a header off her steps and got banged up enough that she did not relish riding. The doctor told her the ligaments in her ankle would take three to five weeks to heal. I have to watch Chloe's rope, too. She may weigh only nine pounds but when she comes flying up her run that rope can hit pretty hard, so I can only imagine what 50-pound Kia's can do.

I heard back from the doctor on Thursday that one of my tests was not where he would like it so to add another pill. I did not say, although I thought it, that if I took the one pill more often it probably would make a difference. I never can remember to take pills in the daytime. The nighttime ones I remember to take but until they make a pillbox that says, "Take me. It's time," and I can't see that happening right off, I probably will still forget but I have determined to do better.

I hope everyone is enjoying the hot weather. I would have liked it better in July as Marcia and I have some things that we planned to do and it's too hot to do them. But it is nice to find that summer actually knows that it is supposed to be warm and not cool and rainy.

I was sorry to hear of the death of Nancy Cummings. She was in my class at school and we keep losing more of our classmates all the time, I suppose that is the natural order of things, but it seems worse when it is up close and personal. When I was in primary school I always envied her her long curly black hair. Mine was short and straight and blond and it didn't seem fair! Of course, when I got older I stopped envying things I could not have but I still thought it very pretty. She will be very much missed by her family and friends.

Don't forget Norm Davis' fresh produce stand. With all the sun, heat and rain we have had lately there must be many more of his vegetables ready for purchase. Norm's stand is located about three miles north of routes 2 and 26. Look for the turn at the Bear River Trading Post.

The Branch Road had visitors this weekend. Kevin Barry from the Cape was here. The Eames residence had activity with tents in the yard and a young swimmer who found the Branch Brook a bit on the cold side. He was coming up from the falls area when I said hello to him.

The parking areas for hikers' cars have been pretty full. It reminds me of the time I hiked Mt. Speck by myself when I was in my early thirties. I met a man and his daughter who were on their way up as I was descending over the old, very rocky top area. He admonished me for hiking alone and sort of extracted a promise that I wouldn't do it again. To this day I haven't. I would like to go up to Table Rock again, one of favorite spots in Graf-

Brad and Brenda Wight were surprised with a 25th Wedding Anniversary Party given by their children, Katie, Kurt and Kevin. Kevin was unable to attend as he is completing his AIT (Advanced Individual Training) for the Army in El Paso, Texas. He is scheduled to be back in Maine at the end of the month. Some of the towns that people traveled from included Errol, N.H., Stoneham, Rumford, Bethel area, Liberty, Greene, Milton and Newry. All of Brad and Brenda's siblings were able to attend. It was nice getting together and socializing with all the family and friends.

On Friday my thermometer hit an all-time high of 104 degrees in the shade. The fan ran all day and I was in the cooling breeze most of the day and night.

On Sunday, Aug. 12, the Rev. Richard Beal will be the speaker at West Summer Universalist Church. The service is at 11 a.m. followed by refreshments. All are welcome.

A graveside service for Sidney Perham was held at the Wayside Cemetery in West Paris on Saturday, Aug. 4. He was 76 years old and the son of Harold and Mazie Perham. His brother, Joseph Perham, conducted the service. He graduated from West Paris High School and Colby College and had lived in New York.

Beverly and Vince Stevens entertained Steve and Muriel Bunker and children, Chris and Lisa, over the weekend. The weather having cooled off some was comfortable for them.

The Historical Society will hold a bag sale on Saturday, Aug. 11, at 8 to 12 a.m. They have a lot of goods left to sell.

On Sunday, I accompanied Florence McLaughlin and Mel Young to Sabattus for a Birthday Party honoring great-granddaughters, Emily Hysong who was 4 and Molly Flarety who was 6. Many relatives attended and enjoyed a cook-out followed by the opening of the girls' many gifts. The entertainment was swimming in the Flarety's new, large swimming pool. The children greatly enjoyed the water.

Muffy has started stretching out on the kitchen table for a nap when the vertical blinds are closed and she is unable to get to the bow window. She is telling me to open the blinds so she can have her napping place back.

Steve and Donna Hall have returned to their house in East Andover for the summer.

They recently enjoyed having two of their sons and their families for a week's visit: Guy and Mary Hall and their children, Colby and Serena, and Glenn and Cindy Hall and their children, Max and Caleb. They all were permitted to fish in Grampa's secret fishing hole, which led to a big fish fry afterward.

What a glorious weekend we had for Olde Home Days. And what a nice time it was — the Olde Home Day committee did a great job!

Services at the Baptist Church are Sunday School at 9:15 a.m., morning worship at 10:30 a.m., youth group every other Sunday at 4 p.m., evening service at 6 p.m. Wednesday evening at 6:30 is prayer meeting. On Saturday, July 28, there was a very nice ladies brunch, and on Sunday, the 29th, after the morning service, a luncheon was held at the fellowship hall followed by a lovely musical on prayer presented by David Lloyd and Ben Conant.

Judith Grover Tent 17 DUVCW will meet on Monday, Aug. 13, at the Grange Hall for a cookout with Tents 8 and 19 as guests.

On Wednesday, Aug. 15, Woodstock School will celebrate their 20th anniversary. Come celebrate with them. Free carnival, free spaghetti supper and free entertainment. Carnival is 2 to 6 p.m., spaghetti supper is 5 to 6:30 p.m., and Mike Miclon from 7 to 8 p.m. Rain date Aug. 16. Come show your support for the school.

The Woodstock-Greenwood Senior Citizens enjoyed a nice picnic (inside where it was cool) at Joan and Gordon Morgan's home, on Aug. 2 with 18 present. A "What's It" was held with many old items that each one brought. It was very interesting. Next meeting is Sept. 6 at the Masonic Hall with Star Birthday Club putting on the dinner. New members always welcome.

Historical Society
The Historical Society museum has household items, dishes and dresses to represent the lives of women years ago. It also has tools, farm equipment, mill photos, and uniforms relating to their male counterparts. For children, they have a crib, dolls and many other toys. There are a few old school books and a school desk. They also have many photos, team trophies, and programs relating to high school years. Nearly everyone's life is touched on at the museum, which is only as it should be if they want to reflect the community in general. Professional people have business ads or fliers as well.

Thanks to Paul Billings for the programs he arranged for the society this year. Years ago, there was plenty of entertainment in Woodstock too. There were theatricals as well as Bacon's orchestra. The town had a cornet band. They have posters of the many events at the Opera House. There was the Summer Music Camp at Birch Villa and on and on.

Curator Larry Billings watched a program Bethel High School had on Channel 4 about the Odeon Hall in Bethel. He remembers it from when he was a boy.

Mary and Larry Billings watched the Historical Society Museum recently. Nancy Willard was in and gave the society something. Larry put a couple of especially nice prints and an oil painting out as a special exhibit for August.

Remember the Historical Society meets the second Saturday of every month at the museum. Meeting at 7 p.m. The museum is open Saturdays, 1 to 4 p.m. until fall.

Waterford

by Rockie Graham

It finally rained here. Monday we got over an inch, maybe two inches of rain. We had a huge puddle in the yard, but by late afternoon it had shrunk to almost nothing. The plants are happy, but flowers and veggies need more. We are happy; it took care of some of the dust that's been flying about. Now we are back to hot, hazy and humid. Oh well, at least we got a one-day break.

This a.m. after that rainy day, we finally went across the street to try breakfast at Sally's Kitchen. We were quite pleased. David had an omelet and I had eggs and an excellent muffin. It was very reasonably priced, too.

Vera and Mark were over last night and Vera and Dave had a great time playing on the computers. We watched. I tried out a game on one of the new laptops. I do not see how anyone could do it for hours, but it was good fun for a little while.

The dump boys have created their own problems and now are trying to force people to be restricted in what they can dump because the boys can't handle it. They claim they have no room in Universal Waste to store items, but they have an entire building that the state paid for to handle just that. Just what was predicted if they didn't have a full-time manager who knew what was going on.

Next Wednesday, the 15th of August, the Wilkins House in Waterford is having a breakfast from 7:30 to 10 a.m. The menu includes: sausage, bacon, pancakes, scrambled eggs, homemade muffins donuts, orange juice and coffee. Cost is $5 for adults, $3 for children. Wilkins House is on Plummer Hill just beyond the Commons.

Saturday, the 18th, in Lovell is the 32nd annual Lovell Arts and Artisans fair. It is from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Mollycodd Middle School in Fryeburg. (New Suncook School is undergoing repairs.) There will be over 60 craftsmen. It is an all juried show.

Thursday, the 9th, the Lovell Summer Music Series at the Brick Church on Christian Hill Road will feature Dos Casinos Y Un Tiger (Two Grey Haired Guys and One Tiger). It starts at 7 p.m.

At Deertrees this week we have: "Murder at the Howard Johnson's" on Thursday, the 9th, at 8 p.m. FMI: 583-6747. The New Black Eagles Jazz Band will be Saturday, the 11th, at 8 p.m.

That is all for this week. Stay out of that hot sun and stay hydrated.

28th Annual BETHEL HISTORICAL SOCIETY SUDBURY CANADA DAYS Aug. 10, 11, and 12

Sudbury Canada was Bethel's name from the time of the granting of this western Maine township in 1768 to its incorporation in 1796. This early name honored the original grantees from Sudbury, Massachusetts, who had fought unsuccessfully to conquer Canada in 1690. The Commonwealth of Massachusetts rewarded these men with land in the "District of Maine," naming it in honor of their Massachusetts town and the campaign in which they served. (Bethel was never part of Canada.) "Sudbury Canada Days," the summer heritage festival of the Bethel Historical Society, honors the town's rich heritage, dating from the 18th century.

"I like working at Rumford Hospital because it provides me the opportunity to work in a rural community hospital.

I split my time between CMMC, a Level II trauma facility and Rumford Hospital, which offers me the best of both worlds. What I like about Rumford is the change of pace and the friendly and supportive staff.

What Central Maine Medical Family brings to Rumford is an exceptional group of well-trained emergency physicians, all of whom are certified by the American Board of Emergency Medicine. There are few rural community hospitals in the country that have such a fine group of emergency physicians.

Rumford is fortunate, too, to have a newly renovated and expanded state-of-the-art emergency department."

and Gwyneth Bohr, Marge and Bill Medd, Henry and Patricia Stewart, and Herb and Mary Adams.

From Oxford County Republicans

State Senator David R. Hastings III (R-Fryeburg) and State Representative H. Sawin Millett (R-Waterford) will be the featured speakers at the Aug. 14 monthly meeting of the Oxford County Republican Committee.

Both Hastings and Millett are widely respected in Augusta for their knowledge, hard work and enthusiasm for making the legislative process work.

The social hour will begin at 5:30 p.m. followed by a dinner, the speakers and a brief business meeting. All area Republicans are cordially invited to attend.

From Lake Umbagog National Wildlife Refuge

Come join us for a day packed full of fun, food, and family entertainment. On Saturday, Aug. 11, Lake Umbagog National Wildlife Refuge will hold its annual Wildlife Festival at the Errol Consolidated School in Errol, N.H., from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Learn about Lake Umbagog, wildlife of the area, and the Great North Woods.

This year the festival will include interesting and informative presentations throughout the day. At 10 a.m., Kyle McCarthy will present a slideshow on "Snow Leopards in the Tian Shan Mountains of Kyrgyzstan." McCarthy has traveled to Kyrgyzstan to study the rare and elusive leopards. Join Steve DeStefano for a demonstration of wildlife radio tracking at 10:30 a.m. Experienced biologist and lecturer Alan Stearne will be giving a presentation at 11 a.m. featuring a unique slideshow on North Country Moose, dispelling cartoon misconceptions of the animal. Ecologist and wild canid specialist Chris Schadler is giving a passionate and fascinating talk on wolf and coyote in New England at 1 p.m. Sam Stoddard, from the Cooperative Extension of the University of New Hampshire, will be providing a workshop on how to use a GPS unit at 2 p.m. At 3 p.m., the Chewonki Foundation will be presenting their program, "Predators: The Balance of Nature," where you can view actual live predators.

The festival features many other attractions. The "Forever Locked" exhibit will be on display at the Umbagog Wildlife Festival. This museum-quality taxidermy exhibit features two bull moose that permanently locked antlers while dueling, causing the demise of both.

The day will include instruction in the art of fly tying and archery. Entries in the annual Amateur Wildlife Photography Contest and Wildflower Arranging Contest are due at 11 a.m. and 10 a.m., respectively. Winners will be announced at 3 p.m.

Guided pontoon boat tours of Lake Umbagog National Wildlife Refuge will also be offered. Space on pontoon boats is limited, and reservations should be made in advance by calling the Lake Umbagog National Wildlife Refuge office.

The Umbagog Wildlife Festival also features various informative booths, a stocked kids' fishing pond event, displays, a BBQ lunch hosted by the Umbagog Snowmobile Club, a fish hatchery truck with brook trout, vendors with crafts for sale, kids' games, a GPS course, a loon call imitation contest, and more.

For information on our Wildflower Arranging and Amateur Wildlife Photography Contests, to make a reservation for the guided pontoon boat tours, to reserve a vendor's booth, or for more information, please call festival coordinator Josh Diamond at (603) 482-3415 ext. 10.

From Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce

The Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce is hosting a brand new event, The Inaugural Maine Mountain Corvette Festival, Aug. 16-19.

Corvettes will start to arrive on Thursday, Aug. 16. A full calendar of events for the festival can be found on our website at www.bethelmaine.com.

The public is invited to the "Show & Shine Event" on the Bethel Common on Saturday, Aug. 18, from noon to 3:30 p.m. All will be encouraged to vote for their favorite Corvettes in each of six generations, as well as best paint, and best custom.

One of the featured parts of the event will be an old-fashioned Maine Lobster Bake from noon to 2 p.m., also on the Bethel Common. The cost is $38 per person and includes 1 1/4 pound lobster, steamed clams, corn-on-the-cob, coleslaw, rolls and butter, and blueberry pie.

Reservations and pre-payment must be made to Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce at 824-2282 by Tuesday, Aug. 14. All are welcome and encouraged to support this new event.

From Western Mountains Alliance

On Friday, Aug. 24 at 7 a.m. the Western Maine Legislative Caucus will sponsor a free public breakfast forum on proposed wind energy projects in northern Franklin County. The forum will take place at the North Dining Hall on the University of Maine at Farmington campus and include presenters with different perspectives on the two projects and wind energy in general.

Invited presenters include TransCanada Energy Ltd which is proposing a project

TO FIND YOU MORE EASILY IN AN EMERGENCY—The Greenwood Fireman's Association recently installed the first of reflective address signs at the home of Hugh Swan of Greenwood. The highly reflective green signs are placed so that emergency responders can identify house numbers from a distance. The signs are available at the Locke Mills fire station or at the Greenwood town office for $15. The proceeds going to the Greenwood Fireman's Association. Firefighters will install the signs for anyone who needs one. Signs are available to anyone, not just Greenwood residents. Here, Greenwood firefighters David Goodwin and Lt. Ray Wakefield install the sign for Swan.

From

River Valley Growth Council

The concept of a shared use kitchen continues to bubble with excitement. In June, approximately 25 people turned out to show their interest in a shared use kitchen that would allow for commercial retail of their product. Now that the Growth Council understands the needs and interests of the community, the project is moving forward.

On Monday, Aug. 13, at 6 p.m. at the River Valley Technology Center, a free presentation of licensing requirements, guidelines and regulations will take place. Carl Witham, health inspector for the Department of Health and Human Services, and Marshall Piper, consumer protection inspector for the Department of Agriculture, will conduct the meeting.

Anyone wishing to produce food commercially should plan to attend. Whether you are interested in utilizing the shared use kitchen, working out of home or simply for your own benefit, please join us. RSVP to Beverly at 369-0396 or e-mail beverly@rvgc.org.

The Growth Council has also secured the services of an experienced kitchen designer. We are hoping to include both commercial and education uses. The Growth Council will include a serve safe food handling certification class as well. If there continues to be great interest, the Growth Council will seek funds to advance the project to full capacity.

A FISH STORY, DOCUMENTED

BG (Retired) Russ Howard caught this 37-pound Chinook (king) salmon in Tasu Sound, British Columbia last week. Howard's fish was the largest salmon caught by the 38 anglers staying at the Tasu Sound Lodge. Tasu Sound is in the remote Queen Charlotte Islands off the coast of British Columbia and has been featured on the Discovery Channel as an extraordinary location to fish. Howard's king salmon and the coho salmon, lingcod, red snapper, and halibut he caught were cleaned, cut into filets, flash frozen, vacuum packed and FEDEXED to the Gideon-Hastings House in Bethel, where John Amann allowed the fish to reside in the restaurant's freezer—for a small cut of the action.

The Maine Performing Arts Festival will present its second season in Bethel

The Maine Performing Arts Festival will present its second season in Bethel beginning Aug. 5. Based on the very strong feedback from last year's Festival, the upcoming season will again feature professional theatre under the direction of Andrew Harris. The Festival will include a series of presentations and performances for audiences of all ages. On the evening of Sunday, Aug. 5, Harris will present a lecture on theatre that will enrich enjoyment of the week's events as it focuses on elements of performances scheduled for the balance of the Festival.

On Monday, Aug. 6, members of the professional cast will join local performers doing readings from various plays, and Tuesday, Aug. 7, professional performers will entertain off-stage with readings in a local pub.

Beginning on Aug. 8, Harris's professional company will perform the U.S. premiere of Doc Faust! A Wild West Musical, a rollicking, knee-slapping show, by British playwright, Philip Goulding. See a play description and reviews at <http://hometown.aol.co.uk/goulding/myhomepage/business.html>

The playwright will be traveling from England to enjoy his show's US debut in Bethel, Maine. Aug. 8, is Preview Night, an opportunity for all to enjoy the show at reduced ticket prices, adults/$10, and children 12 and under/$5. Doc Faust! will also be performed at 7:30 in the evening on Thursday, Aug. 9, Saturday, Aug. 11, and Sunday, Aug. 12, and as a matinee at 2:30 p.m. on Friday, Aug. 10. Regular ticket prices are $20/$10.

The Figures of Speech Theatre will perform "Cupid and Psyche" for children of all ages, and Robin Spielberg, Steinway pianist, composer, and recording artist will present a concert entitled Dreaming of Summer. Ticket prices for The Figures of Speech and Dreaming of Summer shows are adults/$10, and children 12 and under/$5.

As part of the growing Festival there will be lectures on theatre, readings of professional actors with local artists, and pub events as well during the days immediately preceding the performances. The Maine Performing Arts Festival will begin with the opening lecture on the evening of Aug. 5, and will culminate with the final performance of "Doc Faust! A Wild West Musical" on the evening of August 12. Watch www.maineapaf.org for details.

Weddings & Engagements

Mr. & Mrs. Robert L. Collins

On July 7, 2007 Judith "Jude" Lamb and Robert L. Collins of Lamoine exchanged marriage vows. A small gathering of friends witnessed the ceremony on the shore of the Atlantic Ocean with the mountains of Acadia as a backdrop.

Ms. Lamb is the daughter of Joyce Lamb and the late Newton Lamb of West Paris. She has three daughters and six grandchildren: Nina and Rob Hyssong, Joshua and Emily of South Portland; Kelly and Cameron Hartley, Nicolas, Sophia and Weston of Auburn; Kyra and Gene Flaherty and Molly of Sabattus. She is a graduate of the College of the Atlantic in Bar Harbor, where she studied art and earned a bachelor's degree in human ecology. She is a practicing artist and is office administrator for the Acadia Senior College on Mount Desert Island.

Dr. Collins is a senior staff scientist, emeritus, from Jackson Laboratory in Bar Harbor. He grew up in Cleveland, Ohio, and has lived many years in Lamoine. His degrees from Baldwin Wallace College and Western Reserve University prepared him for his career of research in neurogenetics. Using laboratory mice as a model, his most recognized work was on the inheritance of handedness, and in epilepsy research. Rob is a jazz pianist and plays with local groups of musicians.

Chase Cobb

Lois and Rodney (Buster) Chase of Bryant Pond are pleased to announce the engagement of their daughter, Victoria Cobb, to Jeremie Cobb, both of Auburn. Jeremie is the son of Valencia Cobb and the late Dale Cobb of Hampden, Maine.

Victoria graduated from Husson College with a bachelor's degree in Computer Information Systems.

Jeremie graduated from Northern Maine Technical College with an associate's degree in Auto Body.

An October 2007 wedding is being planned.

REAL ESTATE AND YOU
BUILDING GOOD COMMUNICATION
Good communication will enable you to obtain the best service from the Realtor who is helping you to buy or sell a home. If you have any concerns, express them not only to your spouse and your co-workers, but also to the person who can do something about it—your agent!

Real estate sales are extremely complex transactions that involve large sums of money and the largest single material asset most individuals will ever own. Since the potential for misunderstanding is great, professional Realtors work hard to ensure that the transaction will go smoothly. This requires clear communication between the buyers, the sellers and the other Realtors. Most of the breakdowns in real estate transactions result from vague or inadequate communication prior to the signing of the contract. Express any concerns that you may have and ask about anything you don't understand. The only foolish question is the one that isn't asked!

For professional advice on all aspects of buying or selling real estate, contact Cindy Hiebert at Mahoosuc Realty, 207-824-2771

Obituaries

YVETTE M. C. BEST

Yvette Marie Capillon Best died on Aug. 4, 2007.

She was born to Nellie Harrington and Eddie Capillon on Dec. 7, 1938. Nellie's grandfather and grandmother came to Bethel in the 1840s and many of the Harringtons still live in the Bethel area. Eddie Capillon grew up in New York City.

Yvette grew up in Attleboro, Mass., and attended Attleboro High School, where she was valedictorian of her class. She spent her childhood and teenage summers in Bethel, where she enjoyed playing with her cousins, hiking in the mountains, and swimming in the local ponds. One of her most memorable experiences was hiking Mt. Katahdin as a 14 year old with her parents and a friend from summer camp. Fifty years later she climbed Katahdin again with Crawford, and that afternoon they found that same friend, who still lived in the area.

She attended the New England Conservatory of Music, earning her Bachelor's degree Summa cum Laude, and a Master's degree in one year. She and Crawford met while they were college students working in Yellowstone National Park, Yvette as a waitress and Crawford as a janitor. They married in June 1963, and moved to New Orleans for 30 years, where Crawford played bassoon in the New Orleans Symphony and Yvette taught music in public and private school systems. Their children were born and raised in New Orleans. Stephanie is now a police detective in Logan, Utah and Alan is a doctor in his second year of radiology residency in Denver, Colo.

For 36 years Crawford's summer job with the Santa Fe Opera took the family to New Mexico. Yvette spent these summers swimming, hiking, baking cherry pies, identifying wildflowers and birds, and attending operas with Stephanie and Alan.

After Yvette retired in 1998, she and Crawford traveled extensively. Crawford's last season with the Minnesota Orchestra took him to Europe and Japan, and Yvette came along on both tours.

In 2001 Yvette was diagnosed with fallopian tube cancer, a very rare type of cancer. She continued to lead an active life after being diagnosed, hiking and skiing in the Rocky Mountains.

In the spring of 2003 Crawford played bassoon for three months in the Honolulu Symphony and Yvette managed to see almost every nook and cranny of that city while Crawford was rehearsing. Between rounds of chemotherapy, she scaled volcanoes and visited black sand beaches. On vacation in Australia for two months, they traveled over six thousand miles in a camper van and visited many national parks and exciting birdwatching areas. From 2004 through 2006, she and Crawford spent January and February in Sarasota, Fla., where Crawford played bassoon with the Sarasota Opera. Yvette volunteered there at the Marie Selby Botanical Gardens and at The Pelican Man's, an animal rehabilitation clinic caring for a variety of injured birds and mammals.

In Santa Fe, Yvette volunteered at the Santa Fe Animal Shelter and was a part-time car attendant with the Santa Fe Railway. This position perfectly suited her ability to put other people at ease and engage in genuine conversation with people whom she had just met. It seemed that Yvette could talk to anyone about anything. Yvette will be remembered for her warmth, openness, boundless energy, and enthusiasm for life.

Yvette and Crawford were married for 44 years and knew each other for four years before that.

Yvette is survived by her husband Crawford and two children, Stephanie and Alan.

Crawford and Yvette were life members of the Sierra Club, the Audubon Society, and the Nature Conservancy. Memorial donations may be made to these organizations, or any nature or conservation organization.

JOHN CLARK MORSE

John Clark Morse, 82, of Roxbury, died at his residence in Roxbury on July 31, 2007.

He was born in Hanover on Nov. 4, 1924, the son of the late Cyrus Clark Morse and the late Edna Jordan Morse Moxey. John attended Hanover schools and Gould Academy and had lived on the Morse Farm in Hanover for over 50 years. For the last 32 years, he lived with his cousin, Kathleen Knapp, and her husband, Leslie, in Roxbury.

John was always very polite, pleasant and helpful to those around him and he loved working on the farms.

John is survived by four sisters, Ella "Flip" Morse of Scarborough, Lilla "Tura" Martin and her husband Leroy of South Paris, Thelma Gaudet and her husband Edward of Yarmouth and Loretta Bryant of Rochester, N.H.; one brother, Charles Morse of South Paris; one aunt, Bertha Flanders of South Paris; and several nieces and nephews. John was predeceased by one sister, Patricia Moxey.

Private funeral services will be held at the convenience of the family.

Births

Seneca A.M. (Brooke) and Freeman F. Corriveau of Newry are pleased to announce the birth of their son, Benjamin Darie Brooke Corriveau on June 17, 2007. Benjamin weighed 8 pounds, 2 ounces.

Maternal grandparents are Randall and Audrey Brooke, Newry.

Paternal grandparents are Fernand and Beverley Corriveau, Gilead.

Great-grandparents are Owen Wight, Newry and Rodney and Carol Jordan, West Bethel.

Benjamin joins Kaiya Sophia Brooke Corriveau, 7, and Samuel Willis Brooke Corriveau, 3.

Cory and Nina Campbell of Kissimmee, Fla., are pleased to announce the arrival of a baby boy, Noah Alexander Campbell, born on May 8, 2007 at Celebration Hospital, weighing 8 pounds, 13 ounces. Grandparents are Carol Campbell of Bryant Pond, Joe and Cindy Campbell of Bethel and Dick and Monica Ottestig of Lulea, Sweden.

Noah joins his big sister, Emma, age 3 1/2.

Card of Thanks

Our sincere thanks to all who came to the memorial service for Russell Yates. A service which was so nicely arranged by Clifton Gray.

A special thank you to pastor Lloyd Waterhouse for his very touching service, and to pastor Bruce Tyner for his gracious words at the memorial service. Also, to the grange ladies, who put on a delicious lunch, planned by Bertha DeHaas. Another "thank you" to all who have made a donation to the heart fund of Franklin Grange #124.

God Bless you all!
Peggy Blake & Laura Hutchins

Card of Thanks

We would like to thank our family and friends for making our 25th Wedding Anniversary (July 24, 1982) a memorable one. Many thanks for all the cards, gifts, and 25th Anniversary treasures. Our children, Katie, Kurt, and Kevin did a wonderful job organizing the celebration along with the help from family members. The Anniversary cake, made by Sharon Farrington, was a replica of our wedding cake made 25 years ago by Rae Bartholomew!

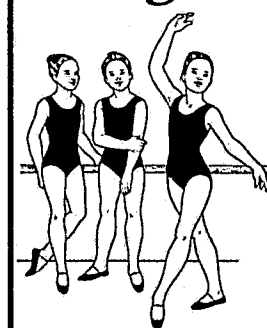

Thank You,
Brad & Brenda Wight
